A Word from the Pastor

Dearly beloved in Christ,

We wish you all a happy & prosperous New Year and God's choicest blessings. As in the year gone by, God showed his faithfulness towards us in many aspects of our lives in various times and situations. We believe that his countenance and presence will go before us in the coming year 2010. We had a blessed season during Christmas. We thank God for the way he has led us. We are not sure of tomorrow, but we have our trust in the Lord who holds our future safe in his hands. Let us commit ourselves into His hands and pray that He leads us according to His will, plan and purpose.

God's Covenant of Law with people of Israel:

God made a Covenant with his chosen people because he knew their future. He required them of their trust and obedience. In the Bible we see God's covenants with his people were based on their obedience to uphold the law which was given to Moses. Firstly, they were supposed to accept him as their God and he would adopt them as his people. He would guide them to the land of Canaan and they should worship him in that land as the only God and be faithful unto him. Secondly, they were supposed to abide by all the laws spoken by God at Mount Sinai, keep the Ten Commandments and many other laws which were given to Moses from time to time. To enforce the covenant, the people of Israel promised that they would keep up the promise (Ex. 24:3). If they disobeyed the covenant, God said he would remove them as the covenant people and cause them death. God expected them to be obedient, though not perfect, but when the people of Israel settled in the Promised Land, they solely forgot the Lord God of Israel and began to worship many other Gods.

Covenant of Heart:

When the people of Israel disobeyed God and forgot his commandments and laws, God reminded them of their disobedience through prophets and gave them chances to repent and return. But, they did not heed to any of his warnings and continued to live as they pleased. God, being just and righteous, made them to reap the consequences and allowed Babylonians to completely destroy Jerusalem. Young men and women were captured and taken to Babylon. When the prophet Jeremiah pleaded mercy for his people, God gave him the hope of granting mercy. He gave him the second chance to come to terms with the covenant, the covenant of hearts (Jer 31:33). When the laws of God were forgotten, and his commandments were neglected, Prophet Jeremiah called them to have His commandments and laws to be written in their hearts. As time passed by, the people of Israel forgot the covenant of hearts.

Covenant of Love and Sacrifice:

God in his own plan, wanted to save the whole of mankind. So he sent his begotten son Jesus to be our Lord and Saviour. He expressed his love on the cross of Calvary and cleansed our sins through his precious blood. Today, we are privileged to be his children. We are called to remain in his love (Jn 15:10), and follow his commandments. Then he will lead us to bear much fruit for him.

Dearly beloved, as you enter the New Year, May the God of covenant bless you, and enable you to bear much fruit for his name sake. As you tread in the unknown tomorrow, May he be your guide and lead you to be a blessing to many.

May God bless you.

Yours Sincerely,

Rev. David Vijayakumar

YESU MARGA, as the only way, in the VEDAS

Vedas means, 'sacred spiritual knowledge' and this knowledge categorically dictates the appearance and death of a sacrificial Purusha for the remission of sins, for the entire humanity.

Vedic requirements for the sacrificial Purusha:

1. Should be without a blemish:

Kaatyayana Srutasootram describes in Ch.6, that water and fire were to be used for the purification of the animals, since blameless animals are not available in this world. Chantokia Upanishad (1.6-6.7) says, the yagna Purusha is free from all sins.

2. The Purusha has to be separated from others:

While sacrificing the horse, the sacrificial horse is always separated from other horses. A bush of thorns is always placed on the head of the horse to inform the people that horse is separated for the sacrifice. Also the head of the horse is considered to represent the Purusha (Sathapatha Brahmana 13th kanda 6.2.2)

3. The purusha has to be rejected by his own people:

In Itareya Brahmana, it is written that the sacrificial animal should be rejected by its father, mother, brother, sister and friends (2.16)

4. The Yagna Purusha has to suffer silently:

Rig Veda 5.46.1, says, "Like a horse I have yoked myself, well knowing to the pole. I seek neither release nor turning back"

5. The Purusha has to be tied to a post:

In Sathapatha Brahmana, it is written , never do they immolate an animal without tying it to the pole. "Na varute yapaat pasum alabhate kadachana" (III 7.3.1). It is important to tie the animal to a sacrificial pillar before it is scarified.. This pillar is called "Yupastamba"; which has now become a flag mast.

6. The blood of the sacrificial Purusha should be shed:

Bruhad Aranyaka Upanishad (3.9.28.2) says, "Tvechaevasya rudhiram prasyandhi tvacha utpathah. Tasmaattadarunnaat praiti, raso vrukshadi vahataat". As the sap comes out of the cut tree, blood comes of the Purusha, who is cut

7. The sacrificed animal's bones should not be broken:

In Itareya Brahmana(2.6), it is stated that the scarificer separates the twenty-six ribs of the animal without breaking them

8. The scarified Purusha should return to life:

The Bruhad Upanishad says, "Yad Vruksha vrukshano, mulannavathrah punah, martyah svinmrutyuna vruknah kasmaanmulaat prarohatiRetasa iti maavocata, jivatastat praja yate, dhanaruh a iva vaicrau vruksho, anjaasaa pretya sammbhavah", which means, if the tree is cut, it will grow again from its root. But after the man (martyah) was cut off by death, from which root does he come forth? Do not say that he is from the ratas (seed of semen), because ratas comes from the one who lives. Remember that this man is dead. But this man (Purusha) comes alive, on his own.

9. The flesh of the Purusha should be eaten by his saints:

In Sathpatha Brahmana(5.1.1.1.2), we find that Prajapathi gave Himself up to them, thus the sacrifice became theirs and indeed the sacrifice is the food of the gods(saints)

10. The sacrifice is for all:

Verse 8, in Purusha suktha explains, "Tasmaad yagnatsarvahutah, pasuntamscakre voayaryaa, naananyaan gramyaasca ye". By that sacrifice, all these originated: sprinkled ghee and all kinds of animals of the sky, forest and country. The significance of the sprinkled ghee represents the original sacrifice.

Verse 9 of Purusha suktha says "Tasmaad yagnat sarvahuta, nucha samaari jagnire, Chandaamsi jagnire , tasmaad yajustas naada jaayatah." From that sacrifice, Purusha offered everything he had, including the Rig, Sama, Yazur Vedas and the Chandas(sacred writings).

Jesus Christ, our LORD alone fulfilled all these above requirements, almost verbatim.

Praise be to the sacrificial Lamb.

Prof. Dr. M. J. Kumardoss

A New Year, A New Beginning

*The old year ends, a new begins
With pages clean and new;
And what is written on each page
will now depend on you.*

*You can't relive the year that's past,
Erasing every wrong;
For once a year - or day - is spent,
It is forever gone.*

*But don't give up in dark despair
If you have failed some test;
Seek God's forgiveness and resolve
Henceforth to do your best.*

*Resolve each precious day to do
Things good and kind and pure;
Though days and years may pass away,
These things shall still endure.*

*You know not where your path may lead
Nor what's beyond the hill;
But know that God walks at your side,
If you will do His will.*

*All things are possible with God,
Though days be bright or dim;
So do your best and know that you
Can leave the rest to Him.*
